

The future is coming to southern New Mexico

Don't miss it.

Explore the future of personal spaceflight at the
First International Symposium on Personal Spaceflight

The New Mexico State University College of Engineering
in conjunction with the X Prize Foundation and the New Mexico Department of Economic Development present the

First International Symposium on Personal Spaceflight

October 6, 2005

8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

NMSU Corbett Center Third Floor Ballrooms
Las Cruces, New Mexico USA

Plenary Session:

From Aviation to Space: Erik Lindbergh

From Government Space to Personal Space: Rick Searfoss

Session Topics:

Creating the Personal Spaceflight Revolution:
The X Prize Cup — Taking Dreams to Reality

The Personal Spaceflight Experience: Space Tourism

Space as a Place: The New Economic Sector

Spaceport: The Infrastructure for the Space Economy

Lunch Speaker:

Rick Homans

N.M. Economic Development Secretary

More information:

Joylynn Watkins
New Mexico Space Grant Consortium
(505) 646-6414

On-line registration:

<http://engr.nmsu.edu/xprize.htm>